DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 1-2 "the rest width" has no definite antecedent basis; and in line 15 there is a period at the end of the line.

In claim 12, line 2 "a rest portion of a seat" is a double recitation of the rest portion recited in claim 1, line 5.

In claim 13, lines 1-2 "for adjusting the rest width of a seat" is a double recitation of claim 1.

Claims 2-11 are indefinite in that they depend from an indefinite base claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 4-10, 12 and 13, so far as definite, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ball et al.

The mounting plate is 132, the adjusting part is 135, the rest portion is 66, the adjusting unit is 148, the first adjusting direction is upwardly, along the mounting plate 132, the second adjusting direction is downwardly along the mounting plate 132, the mechanical energy storing means are two springs 158, wherein the second end of the adjusting part is coupled to the mechanical energy storage means 158 (col. 10, lines 50-54) and the first end portion is coupled to the rest portion 66 via mounting plate 132.

Claims 14-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gabas et al. See fig. 7, in particular.

The housing is 80b, the cable pull in the inner steel cable of Bowden wire 60, the adjusting unit is 90, the mechanical energy storing means is 70, the first adjustment direction is downward movement of housing 80b relative to cable pull, the second adjusting direction is upward (col. 5, lines 32-37), the electrically driven or manually driven adjustment unit is described in col. 6, lines 12-15.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.

2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ball et al as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Gabas et al.

Gabas et al teaches an electromechanical adjusting unit to be old and well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the adjusting device of Ball such that it were electromechanical as taught to be old by Gabas thereby providing the obvious advantage of greater ease of use for the operator.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 11 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
